

Strengthening Communities

Information Sheet

LakeGive is an initiative launched by Lakeland Consulting ("Lakeland") Inc to support and strengthen communities in Canada by:

- Identifying needs
- Finding contributors
- Enabling giving

This "IFE" approach encourages direct communication and positive interaction between those that need and those that can give.

This voluntary initiative encourages all employees and willing supporters to volunteer such that LakeGive can be successful in its mission.

Typical initiatives range from providing suitable commodities to sharing knowledge (time and expertise) for the benefit of those in need.

We will continue to reach out to family, friends, colleagues, and our supply chain to enable giving to those in need, by:

- Providing a conduit to give in a manner that recognizes the needs of our many communities.
- Facilitating the transfer of commodities or knowledge to build sustainable communities by looking after those in need.

LakeGive will not:

- ✓ Handle money – instead, we will facilitate the giving process to ensure that 100% of all contributions go directly to the person(s) in need.
- ✓ Prioritize religious, cultural, or political considerations – our focus is to build a bridge between persons in need and those capable of giving.
